

WEEKLY

program 2007-2008

1. DESCRIPTION OF WEEKLY PROGRAMS

Weekly programs allow students to make stays that are brief, but have in-depth tennis content, with access to all of the facilities offered by the Academia Sánchez-Casal: a comprehensive preparation system, conceived for players seeking to maximise their tennis proficiency using our innovative system, in which the technical and tactical aspects of tennis are worked in an intensive training program. It features physical training, medical follow-up, and the possibility of carrying out a personalised competition program.

The weekly programs offer students a chance to train with the world's top professionals, by participating in annual groups during brief stays.

The Weekly Program has been conceived for students of all ages and levels. In addition to training with the Academy's professional staff and having access to a wide variety of activities, students meet people from all over the world and live out an unforgettable experience thanks to intense cohabitation.

The Weekly Program includes all of the Academy services, structured in a package offer: training, lodging, language program (optional), activity program, outings and airport pick-up and drop-off (upon request)

The lodging service offered by the Academy is inside the premises of the Club.

Once it has begun, if the student must withdraw from the program without completing it, the Academy will not be obliged to return any amount. When the circumstances justify it, the student will be offered the possibility to re-enrol in the program for the time remaining at a later date.
